

RAISING HOPE

Families are expected to move into new homes later this year in Modesto's new Hope Village, a subdivision built by the nonprofit Habitat for Humanity Stanislaus County. At left, Brad Strout, 29, and Mark Baptista, 17, work on Hope Village. On Wednesday, Habitat for Humanity took government officials and community leaders, below, on a bus tour of some of their homes, including those at Hope Village.

See story, Page B-1.

PHOTOS BY BRIAN RAMSAY
• bramsay@modbee.com

video

For a video report,
click on the link
with this story at [www.modbee.com/
local](http://www.modbee.com/local).

